

Acknowledgements: Leading for Results Module

This curriculum represents a collaborative effort by the partners of the National Child Welfare Workforce Institute (NCWWI)—University at Albany, University of Denver, University of Maryland, Michigan State University, Portland State University, and University of Southern Maine. Production of this web-based curriculum was a team effort involving several dedicated individuals on the LAS Team at USM: Freda Bernotavicz, Adam Bowman, Sue Ebersten, Crystal French, Lee Lauritsen, DeeDee Reardon, Gretchen Robbins, and Marshall Soloway.

Thanks to the original NCWWI team members who provided input from 2008-2010 on the design process. Members of the NCWWI LINKD team, particularly Nancy McDaniel, and Charmaine Brittain at the University of Denver, and Sara Munson and Sharon Koller at the State University of New York at Albany were particularly helpful in identifying relevant resources and in providing feedback. In our 2015 revisions we are grateful to Charmaine Brittan for her narration and input and to Terry Moore at the University of Kansas for use of materials from the Results Oriented Management online curriculum. Thanks also to Glen Curry for his narration of the avatar.

The NCWWI is funded through a Cooperative Agreement with U.S. DHHS, Administration for Children and Families, Children's Bureau, Award No. 90CT7002. Special thanks to Randi Walters, former Children's Bureau Project Officer, Melinda Baldwin, current Children's Bureau Project Officer and Robert Lindecamp, Child Welfare Program Specialist (CB/ICF), for their support.

Principal Author(s):

Sue Ebersten, LAS Team Manager, sebersten@usm.maine.edu
Crystal French, Sr Technology Coordinator, cfrench@usm.maine.edu
Muskie School of Public Service, University of Southern Maine

Recommended citation:

National Child Welfare Workforce Institute (2015). Leadership academy for supervisors: Leading for Results. Albany NY: Author.

For more information: Please visit the NCWWI website at www.ncwwi.org

© 2015, National Child Welfare Workforce Institute, University at Albany, Albany, NY

This document may be reproduced in whole or part without restriction as long as the National Child Welfare Workforce Institute is credited for the work. Upon request, the contents of this document will be made available in alternate formats to serve accessibility needs of persons with disabilities.

The contents of this document are solely the responsibility of the National Child Welfare Workforce Institute and do not necessarily represent the official views of the Children's Bureau.